

Collective giving for the Border region.

Give500 is a great starting point for like-minded donors across all generations to pool their donations, support their community and experience the grant-making process first-hand.

The campaign aims to highlight unmet needs in our local community, to increase involvement in philanthropy across the region and support life-changing community programs.

It's just a smarter way of giving.

How it works.

Donors to Give500 make one donation each year to the value of $500.

This is pooled together to create funds for high impact grants for the benefit of our community. Year on year, and as the number of Give500 donors grows, the impact of the campaign grows too.

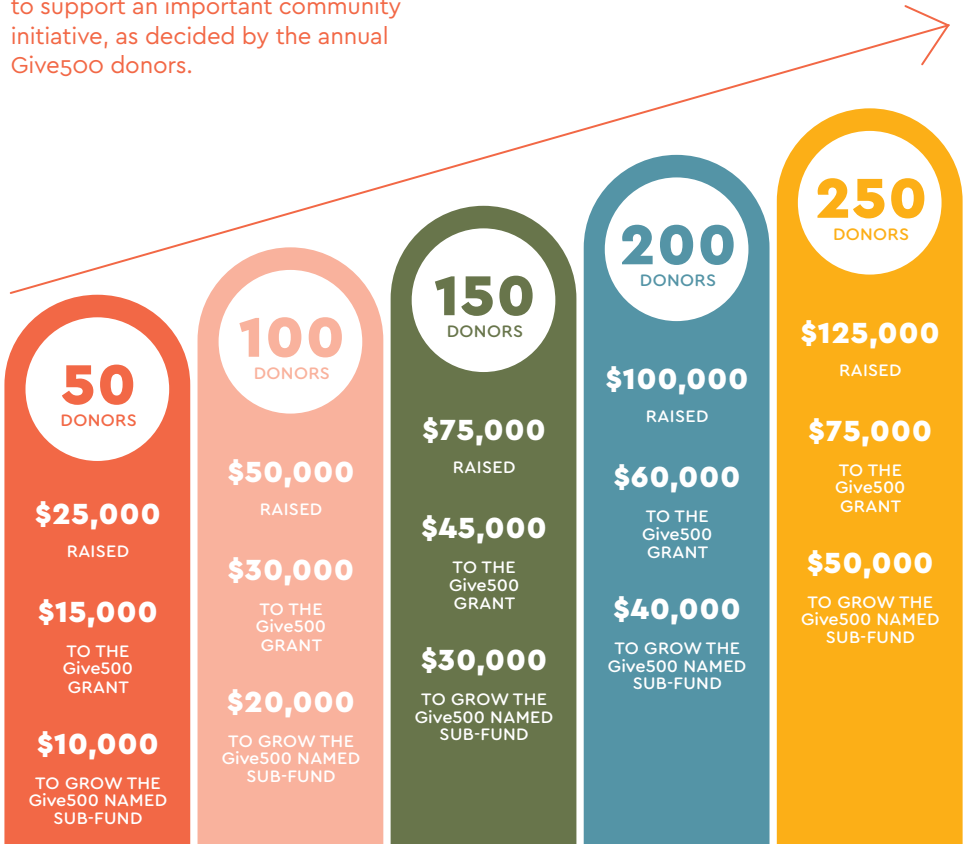

Just imagine, if 100 donors all contribute $500, $50,000 is raised to benefit our community.

60% of funds raised will be allocated to support an important community initiative, as decided by the annual Give500 donors.

The remaining 40% is held in the Give500 Named Sub-Fund to build a sustainable foundation, support additional charitable granting and build a perpetual fund for community benefit.*

As the number of donors increase, so does the grant allocation. The perpetual Named Sub-Fund also grows, providing a lasting gift to our community and ensuring the growth and sustainability of the program.

About Border Trust.

Positive and lasting.

About us

Community Foundation for Albury Wodonga Region trading as Border Trust is an independent philanthropic organisation that enables donors to contribute cash, trusts, bequests or real property to create permanent endowments that benefit the cities of Albury and Wodonga, and Indigo, Towong, Greater Hume and Federation Shires.

Our purpose

We bring together people and resources to create stronger, more resilient, and connected communities.

Positive and lasting impact

Run by locals for local benefit, we have first-hand knowledge of local needs and are part of the community we support. We bring people together to pool resources and activate the power of giving for lasting impact.

With more than $2.1 million already distributed to support local community grant programs, we're investing in the long-term wellbeing of the community.
